PREFATORY NOTE.

JASON TORREY, popularly known as Major Terrey, was one of the earliest settlers in Northeastern Pennsylvania, and was efficiently and conspicuously associated with the first half century of its material and social development.

He raised a large family, and the majority of his descendants have remained in the vicinity of the scenes of his laborious and fruitful activities.

But neither he, nor any of his progenitors, so far as we know, nor any of his descendants, until within a few years, have devoted any attention to the collecting or preserving of any comprehensive genealogical information concerning either the earlier or later generations of the family. Whatever work had been done in this direction, consisted merely of limited family records, made for separate households, and many of these were found to be very incomplete and fragmentary.

In the autumn of 1860, John Torrey, son of Jason Torrey, visited Williamstown, Mass., the place of the latter's birth and early life, and while at the house of a cousin, who resided on the Homestead, he learned that in the garret there were many old letters which Grandfather had received from his sons after their leaving the parental roof, and had preserved. He arranged with his cousin to select such as were from Jason or his wife, or from his brother Ephraim, who also removed to Bethany, that he might bring them home with him. A large package of letters was thus obtained, written at various dates, from 1793 to the time of the decease of our grandparents.

These letters contained a great amount of interesting and valuable historic information, which it would have been impossible to obtain from any other reliable source.

A careful perusal and re-perusal of these letters, and of Father's early diary, led John Torrey to decide, a few years ago, to endeavor to trace out the ancestry of the family; and he undertook a series of comprehensive and systematic investigations and inquiries, which have been prosecuted with an amount of labor and a degree of expert skill, which no inexperienced person would imagine to be necessary, and which have resulted in bringing to the knowledge of the now living members of the family, a distinct and unbroken line of descent for very near two and a half centuries on this continent; extending back to within twenty years of the landing of the Mayflower; and for a hundred years still further back in England—viz : to the time of a William Torrey, who died at Combe St. Nicholas, in Somerset County, England, in June, 1557.

Such information as we thus have, respecting those earlier ancestors in England, was procured by H. A. Newton, Esq., of Weymouth, Mass., and by him kindly furnished.

These inquiries have also revealed, incidentally, many items of interesting and gratifying information concerning persons of excellent worth, and some of broad and honorable distinction, who were descended from the first William Torrey, who settled in Weymouth, but outside the line which leads to Jason Torrey and his descendants.

In collecting the materials for a record of the families of the descendants of our Williamstown ancestors, much valuable aid has been given by M. Homer Torrey, of that town, and by the various other members of those families, of whom inquiry has been made

So much of the results of these inquiries as pertains to a mere statistical or tabulated Genealogy of the descendants of Major Jason Torrey, down to the present date, and of the immediate families of his father and brothers and sister, and of the direct line of his paternal ancestry, back to the middle of the sixteenth century, will be found in the following pages.

It would have added greatly to the interest of this record, if it could have been made to embrace brief historical notices of many persons whose names are mentioned, and who, as heads of families, or as conspicuously active in business or civic or church relations, or in professional life, have attained such positions or such degrees of influence as would give a recognized significance and value to such notices. But to have accomplished this, in any other than a very limited and partial manner, would have required a larger amount of labor, in the collection of reliable and accurate material, than it has been practicable for the compiler of this Genealogy to undertake. Therefore, it has been thought best to omit this very interesting and desirable feature of a complete genealogical record, entirely, for the present, but with the hope that some person may hereafter have the disposition and the opportunity to supply the deficiency.

A brief memoir of Major Torrey, with more or less of reference throughout, to the members of his father's family and of his own, and to many other persons, in the county and in the State, with whom he was associated, will be printed at the same time with this Genealogy, but in a separate book, which will be accessible to any who may desire to see it.

EXPLANATION.

FAMILIES are numbered consecutively. The figures in brackets, at the right of the name of the head of a family, indicates the generation to which such person belongs, counting from William Torrey, who died in 1557.

The figures at the left of a child's name indicate the number under which the family of such child will be found.

FAMILIES

OF THE TORREY ANCESTRY.

WILLIAM TORREY [1], of Combe St. Nicholas, in the County of Somerset, England, who died in June, 1557, leaving a will, in which he mentions Thomasyne, his wife, and "every of his children," without naming them.

PHILIP TORREY [2], son of the above William, and Margaret, his wife. His will is dated in 1604; mentions his son WILLIAM, and daughter Dorothe; also his wife Margaret.

WILLIAM TORREY [3], son of Philip (No. 2), and Jane, his wife. His wife died in April, 1639, at which date he was still living. The date of his death is not found. His son PHILIP had previously died.

PHILIP TORREY [4], son of William (No. 3), and Alicie, his wife. He died in June, 1621, leaving a will dated 21 April, 1621, in which he mentions three daughters, ANNE, MARY and SARAH, and four sons, WILLIAM, JAMES, PHILIP and JOSEPH.

The will of the wife Alicie is dated in 1634, and mentions by name the same seven children, and states that the daughter Mary was deceased.

These four sons all emigrated to America in 1640, and located within a few miles of Boston, Mass., and seem to have been the ancestors of all the early families of the name in America. William and Joseph first located in Weymouth; James in Scituate, and Philip in Roxbury. Although Philip raised a family, it is not learned that he had any son to transmit his family name to later generations. He died in Roxbury in 1686.

Joseph removed to Rehoboth, Mass., and subsequently to Newport, R. I., where he was prominently active in public affairs. He died there in 1675. Nothing is learned concerning his descendants. James was accidentally killed by an explosion of powder in Scituate, in July, 1664, leaving five sons and five daughters.

WILLIAM TORREY [5], of Weymouth, Mass., son of Philip (No. 4), usually designated as "Captain William Torrey," was born in Combe St. Nicholas, in England, in 1608. The church records show that he was baptized on 21 December of that year.

On 17th March, 1629, he was married to Agnes Combe, of Combe St. Nicholas. She died before he left England, and he was appointed administrator of her estate. In 1640 he came to America, bringing with him two sons, SAMUEL, born in 1632, and WILLIAM, born in 1638, and settled in Weymouth, which was thereafter his home. It is believed that he brought his second wife with him from England. Six children were born to him in Weymouth, viz.: NAOMI, MARY, MICAHAH, JOSIAH, JUDITH and ANGEL.

Besides which, he took two small children of his brother James, after their father's death, and brought them up with his family, viz.: JONATHAN and MARY. Both of whom are in some of the records of early history erroneously referred to as his own children.

He died in Weymouth, June 10, 1690. He was our earliest ancestor who resided in America.

SAMUEL TORREY, his eldest son, born in England in 1632, came to New England when but eight years old; was educated at Harvard, and for more than forty years was pastor of the Congregational Church at Weymouth, where he died in 1707.

WILLIAM TORREY [6], of Weymouth, son of Captain William (No. 5), was born in England in 1608; came with his father to Weymouth in 1640; married Deborah, daughter of John Green; died January 11, 1718; she died February 8, 1729. They had eight children, viz.: WILLIAM, JOHN, SAMUEL, JOSEPH, PHILIP, HAVILAND, JOSIAH and JANE. His second son, John, was our ancestor of that generation.

JOHN TORREY [7], of Weymouth, (known on the records as Lieutenant John Torrey), son of William (No. 6), born 23 June, 1673; married

Mary, daughter of Captain William Symes, December 26, 1700; died January 7, 1730; she died February 14, 1758, aged 81. They had seven children, viz., WILLIAM, JOHN, SAMUEL, JOSIAH, MARY, ANN and RUTH. The third son, Samuel, was our ancestor of that generation.

SAMUEL TORREY [8], son of John (No. 7), born in Weymouth, February 11, 1706; married Abigail, daughter of William Snowden, of Boston, October 7, 1726. They had six children born in Boston, viz:

ABIGAIL, who married Timothy Scranton.

MARY, who married Ebenezer Hall.

SAMUEL, married and raised a large family.

DAVID, died in childhood.

SARAH, who married Samuel Wilkinson, of Durham.

ANN, who married Hazael Hinman, and after his decease married 2nd, ——— Moffatt, of Mass.

In 1736 they removed to Middletown, Conn., where his wife Abigail died, July 12, 1737. He married 2nd, Martha, daughter of Jonah and Martha Strickland, of Middletown, February 16, 1738. They had four children who lived to maturity, viz: JOHN, JOSIAH, WILLIAM, and MARTHA.

In the Spring of 1745, he went as a commissioned company officer, in the Connecticut Regiment of the military expedition to capture Louisburg on Cape Breton Island, and after the capture, he was continued there as one of the officers of the force left as a garrison. He died at Louisburg on 17th September, 1745.

His son JOSIAH removed from Middletown when a young man, and his subsequent locality is not learned. The daughter MARTHA became the wife of Abijah Savage, of Middletown, and the mother of a large family. She died 4th June, 1812, aged 67.

JOHN TORREY [9], of Williamstown, Mass., eldest son of Samuel of Middletown, Conn., (No. 8), by his second wife Martha, born in Middletown, Conn., January 14, 1741. He married Ruth Tyrell, of Milford, Conn., in 1768, and they resided on their Williamstown homestead and there raised a large family of children. In 1804 he sold his homestead and removed to Richfield, N. Y., where he died in 1823, aged 82. His wife died February 4, 1819.

Their children were:

RUTH, born December 28, 1769; married Stephen Frazer.

WILLIAM TORREY [9], of Williamstown, Mass., youngest son of Samuel, of Middletown, (No. 8), by his second wife Martha, born in Middletown, January 21, 1744.

Soon after completing his apprenticeship to a mechanical trade, he in 1766 accompanied his older brother John, to Williamstown, Mass., and secured land for a farm adjoining his brother's, and resided upon it as long as he lived. His mother Martha also removed to Williamstown, and during the last few years of her life, resided alternately with her two sons. She died between 1800 and 1804.

On April 13, 1771, he married Hannah Wheeler, daughter of Dea. Nathan Wheeler, of Williamstown. He died October 30, 1820. She died January 28, 1824.
