THE USHER FAMILY.

THIS family has been very prominent in New-England, especially from the fact that John Usher was the proprietor of New-Hampshire, and was involved in the numerous disputes connected with the settlement of that province. It has therefore seemed advisable to print the following account of the first four generations of the family in this country, and it is hoped that the record will be continued by members of the family.

The family was founded here by two brothers, Hezekiah of Cambridge and Boston, and Robert of Stamford, Conn. We do not find any clue to their ancestry beyond the fact that John, son of Hezekiah, used a coat-of-arms. Hezekiah Usher mentions in his will his brother John Harwood and sister Elizabeth Harwood. This John was living at Bednall Green in 1665, as it appears by the Lane Papers. Hezekiah's daughter m. Samuel Shrimpton, and the Shrimptons were from Bednall Green. Hence we may say that this locality is more likely than any other to repay investigation.

Hezekiah Usher was a prominent merchant and member of the Old South church; and his name occurs repeatedly on our records.

His brother Robert, according to Savage, also left a good estate at his decease.
