PREFACE

In submitting these family records of John Andrew Weikert, our ancestor, and the first Weikert to come to America, I have no apology to offer. I have done my best in obtaining the data; I had to put forth some very tedious, long drawn efforts. Many members of these families resided in distant states, their addresses unknown to me; some I have never heard from. I had to depend upon the assistance of others very materially. Some refused to send in the data or only in part, requiring voluminous correspondence.

I have searched diligently from 1922 to 1930 to find the true facts, names and dates concerning the past history of our large family, I have gone into Court records, Church records, and Cemeteries in several Counties, I have searched Historical Societies in several Counties and in three States, I have referred to the Pennsylvania Archives, the large Public Library in New York City and the Congressional Library in Washington, D. C., for the Data of the Weikert Family.

Mistakes will, and have crept in by carelessness in the copy of Family Bibles, etc. So I had to depend upon my own reason in many cases, judging facts the best I could. If mistakes have crept in, with all my vigilance and care, I have done my best to prevent it, I hope that this History concerning the ten Generations will bind us all closer together in the bonds of love, and also, that the interests in our family reunion held yearly near Gettysburg, Pa., will constantly grow, and I solicit any corrections or new information that may be found by anyone. A record will be kept of all new material so it may be used when the Weikert Reunion meets each year.

I wish to thank one and all who in any way assisted me in this work.

1. When the fields are ripe with Har - vest. When the air is sweet with song.
 2. All the world is young in sum - mer. And from ev - 'ry Grow - ing thing.
 3. Praise the Giv - er of the sum - mer. Praise the Mak - er of the flow'rs.

Comes the hap - py dawn of a Re-union morn, Whose re - turn we've wait - ed long;
 Quick re - spons - es rise to the friend - ly skies, Wei - kert's praise to na - ture's King.
 Praise the Lord of light for the glo - ry bright, Of the shin - ing sum - mer hours.

It is set in sum - mer splen - dor. It is hailed with greet - ings gay,
 Life is set to song and glad - ness, All its paths in fair ar - ray,
 At this loved and wel - come re - union. Let each song and joy - ous lay,

It has mem' - ries sweet and ten - der, and we call it Re - union Day.
 Not a care or cloud of sad - ness, So we call it Re - union Day.
 Tell the sto - ry and the rea - son, Why we call it Re - union Day.

COAT-OF-ARMS PATERNAL AND HEREDITARY

Are such as are transmitted from the first obtainer to his son, Grand-son, Great-Grand-son, etc. Then they are Arms of a perfect and complete Nobility, begun in the Grandfather, or the Great-Grandfather (as heralds say) growing in the Son, complete in the Grandson, or rather Great-Grandson, from which rises the distinction of Gentlemen of blood in the Grand-son or Great-Grandson; and from the last, gentleman of ancestry.

We may date the origin of the Coat-of-Arms as hereditary marks of honour soon after the subversion of the Roman empire by the Goths and Vandals, who sunk many liberal Arts and Sciences, but gave birth and life to heraldry, which is made up of the figures of Animals, vegetables, and other things suitable to their genius, for distinction, in times of battle. Thus the strong bore lions, boars, wolves, etc.; for Wit and Craft they bore serpents, dogs, etc. This being the practice of the conquering Germans, it was afterwards through the ambition of some, and virtuous desire of others, continued to represent their progenitors, as well by carrying the marks of their Honour, as by bearing their names, and enjoying their fortunes; which natural figures being cast in a form of rules, their position, disposition, situation, and colours became hereditary, and fixed within the Shield, an ensign of honour; to distinguish them from those of an inferior rank.

The Germans are perhaps at the head of modern writers, though the English and Scottish treatises on the subject are more numerous and more widely used. The Germans' thoroughness of investigation has marked their treatment of this subject, which is eminently a branch of mediæval and subsequent history serving to elucidate Genealogical research.

Modern heraldry is no older than the tournaments of the middle ages. No linking evidence of the science occur during the dark Ages, though badges and emblems are found on shields and helmets discovered in the ruins of antiquity, while in Biblical times the men of Israel were directed to pitch their tents, every man by his own camp and standard with the ensign of his father's house. Greek and Roman writers describe devices on Shields and helmets; the Golden eagle on the shield of the King of Media; the standards and brilliantly-colored shields borne by the Ancient Germans in battle. The office of herald is as ancient as that of Priesthood.

The use of the Coat-of-Arms seems to have become general in the 12th Century. The study of Armory became essential when at Mediæval tournaments aged Knights were appointed, whose duties were to act as arbiters and to pass judgment on Coat-of-Arms and the right of knighthood.

The practical functions of the herald developed into blazoning, historifying, passing judgment on, and marshaling Coat-of-Arms. Blazoning is the methodical description of a bearing. In the first place the shield is described according to its tinctures, figures and partitions. The other part of the Coat-of-Arms are then blazoned—the helm with its crest which are trumpets, wings and plumes, men and animals; then the wreath and its tinctures; after which the Coronet, Cap, etc. finally the supporters, the mantling, the device or motto and other secondary Addenda. To historify in heraldy is to explain the history of a Coat-of-Arms, its origin, and the changes it has undergone. If the herald is to explain a meaning historically, he must shown that this figure is the proper emblem of the family or country.

The marshaling of Arms is especially important in the preparations of new escutcheons. In this matter, the herald either follows the order of the sovereign, or he invents in the Coat-of-Arms and makes the changes on the escutcheon according to his own judgment, or he composes a new escutcheon from several Coat-of-Arms.

HISTORY OF THE EARLY SETTLERS

Love of fame, the desire to enlarge their dominion, eager to sway the sceptre over subjected nations, influenced the ancient Germans to leave their hearths, and to achieve conquests, thus proving themselves, in days of yore, as in the middle ages, Lords of the World.

At different periods, various causes and diverse motives induced them to abandon their Vaterland. Since 1606 Millions have left their homes, the dearest spot on earth, whither the heart always turns. Religious persecutions, political oppressions drove thousands to Pennsylvania, to the asylum for the harrassed and depressed sons and daughters of their relics of the Reformation, whither William Penn himself invited the persecuted of every creed and religious opinion.

From 1682 to 1776, Pennsylvania was the central point of emigration from Germany, France and Switzerland. William Penn's liberal views, and the illiberal cause of the Government of New York towards the Germans, induced many to come to this province. In the first period of twenty years, from 1682 to 1702 comparatively few Germans arrived; not above two hundred families. They located principally at Germantown. They were nearly all low Germans, from Cleves, Germany and arrived in 1683 and 1685. Leaving their native country at that time they escaped the desolations of a French War, which in 1689 laid waste the City of Worms, near which town they resided; ravaged the Country for miles around. Where flames went up from every market place, every hamlet, every parish Church, every county seat within the devoted province.

The period from 1702 to 1727 marks an era in the early German emigration. Between forty and fifty thousand left their native Country—"Their hearths where soft affection dwell." The unparalled ravages and desolation by the troops of Louis XIV under Turenne, were the stern prelude to bloody persecutions. To escape the dreadful sufferings awaiting them, Germans and other Protestants emigrated to the English colonies in America.

In 1708 and 1709, thirty-three thousand, on an invitation of Queen Anne, left their homes in the Rhine Country for London, where some twelve or thirteen thousand arrived in the summer of 1708. These were, for some time, in a destitute condition—wholly depending upon the Charity of the inhabitants of the English Metropolis. Of the large numbers that came to England in 1708 and 1709, seven thousand, after having suffered great privations, returned, half naked and in despondency to their native country. Ten thousand died for want of substance, medical attention, and from other causes, some perished on ships. The survivors were transported to English Colonies in America. Several thousand had embarked for the Scilly Islands, a group south west of England, but never reached their intended destination.

The Germans were principally farmers, they depended more upon themselves than upon others. They wielded the mattock, the axe and the maul, and by the power of brawny arms rooted up the grubs, removed saplings, felled the majestic Oaks, laid low the towering hickory; prostrated, where they grew, the Walnut, Poplar, Chestnut, cleaved such as suited the purpose into rails for fences—persevered untiringly until the forest was changed into arable fields. They were those of whom Governor Thomas said in 1738: "This Province has been for some years the Asylum of the distressed Protestants of the Palatinate and other parts of Germany, and I believe, it may truthfully be said, that the present flourishing conditions of it is in a great measure owing to the industry of these people; it is not altogether the fertility of the soil, but the number and industry of the people, that makes the Country Flourish."

Germans, Swiss, Dutch and French formed a large portion of the first settlers of Pennsylvania. Between forty and fifty thousand names of these Immigrants are to be found in the records of the State in Land warrants Act of Naturalizations, and in lists of imported foreigners. Much time has been spent in laborious researches. So vast became their numbers in Pennsylvania, as to excite public attention as early as 1717, and, finally, to lead the Provincial Council to Adopt, September 14, 1727 and enforce the following Resolutions. "That the Masters of Vessels, importing Germans and others from the Continent of Europe, shall be examined whether they have leave granted them by the Court of Great Britian for the importation of these foreigners, and that a list be taken of all these people, their several occupations, and place from whence they came, and shall be further examined touching their intentions in coming hither; and that a writing be drawn up for them to sign, declaring their allegiance and subjections to the King of Great Britian, and fidelity of the Prosperity of this Province, and that they will demean themselves peaceably towards all His Majesty's subjects, and observe and conform to the Laws of England and of the Government of Pennsylvania."

Lists were taken by Masters of Vessels, and attested as being "exact and true." These are still preserved in the Secretary's office at Harrisburg, many of them are in triplicates, all have carefully been examined by the Editor of this book. This list contains all the names of males above the age of sixteen, who were made to repeat and subscribe the Declarations of Allegiance, with their own hands, if they could write, if they could not write, then their names were written by a clerk, and the qualified person made his mark.

John Andrew Weikert came over from Germany in the Ship Neptune September 24, 1753, (The Master of the ship's name was John Mason). He was made to repeat the Declaration of Allegiance and sign same. It is as follows:

"We subscribers, natives and late inhabitants of the Palatine upon the Rhine and places adjacent, having transported ourselves and families into this Province of Pennsylvania, a colony subject to the Crown of Great Britian, in hopes and expectation of finding a retreat, and a peaceable settlement therein, do solemnly promise and engage that we will be faithful and bear true allegiance to His present Majesty, King George the Second, and his successors, Kings of Great Britain and will be faithful to the proprietor of this Province; and that we will demean ourselves peaceably to all His said Majesty's subjects and strictly observe and conform to the Laws of England and of this Province, to the utmost of our power and the best of our understanding."

MILITARY DATA OF MATHIAS SPITLER

Mathias Spitler was born in Germany April 1, 1728 and died September 29, 1816. He arrived in America on August 30, 1749. The time of enlistment of Mathias Spitler was May 28th, 1757, he enlisted for a term of three years, he was age 27 years, and was a farmer by trade.

Muster Roll of Major Joseph Shippens Company of foot of the second Battalion of the Pennsylvania Regiment, Commanded by Lieutenant Colonel James Burd from the tenth of September 1757 to the first of June 1758 inclusive.

Mathias Spitler was assessed in Mount Pleasant Township in the year 1781 and 1782.

He was the father of Maria Spitler who married George Weikert and is a Paternal Grandfather, his signature appears as one of the executors of the Will of John Andrew Weikert. He is buried in St. John's Cemetery near Littlestown, Pa.

GEORGE WEIKERT AND MARIA (SPITLER)
WEIKERT

George Weikert and Maria Spitler (his wife). He was born February 2, 1760 and died July 20, 1823. Maria (Spitler) Weikert was born February 25, 1760 and died June 19, 1810. There were ten children born to this union. This photograph was a reproduction of a reproduction of an old Daguerreotype which was one of the first known ways of taking a picture. George Weikert was the oldest child of John Andrew Weikert.

JOHN ANDREW WEIKERT

John Andrew Weikert was born in the year 1735, in the Palatinate Country in Germany along the Rhine River. He was known as Hans Andrew Weikert or John Andrew. Hans being a nickname for John at that time. He set sail from Rotterdam, Holland in 1753. In sailing there were one hundred and forty-six other immigrants not including the women and children under sixteen years of age, came on the same ship that landed at Philadelphia, September 24, 1753.

They sailed on the ship Neptune, their reason for coming to this country was the progress of the seven years War in Germany and Central Europe, when most of the country along the Rhine was devastated. He seems to have first located near the Trappe in Montgomery County in the Eastern part of Pennsylvania, but remained there only a very short time then he moved into Lancaster County, and his stay there was of a short duration, he then moved up into York County, settled in the western part which in 1800 became Adams County. The Church records, Court records and Historical Society records differ in the spelling of the name in the following ways, viz, Weikert, Weikart, Weickert, Wickert, Wickart, etc. Weickert was the original spelling in Germany according to the Coat-of-Arms.

There is little known about John Andrew Weikert from 1755 until 1770, in July 1773 he purchased 230 Acres of land in Mount Pleasant Township, York County, that part which is now Adams County, Adams County was separated from York County in 1800.

John Andrew Weikert served as a private during the Revolutionary War at Camp Security in York County, his son George was Captain of the Militia in the third Company in 1777, in Camp Security, York County. I have never been able to learn whether John Andrew Weikert was married when he landed in America or not, but I believe from all accounts that he was married a few years after landing in America. There are many interesting things that transpired in the later part of the Eighteenth Century and the beginning of the nineteenth Century which are recorded in the Pennsylvania Archives and also in Court Records, some of the records are as follows.

On March 12th, 1792, John Andrew Weikert and his wife Mary Eve entered into an agreement with their son George Weikert for 230 acres of land for the sum of 400 pounds.

On December 7th, 1798, Peter Weikert, Andrew Weikert, Mary Elizabeth and Anna Weikert, children of John Andrew Weikert, deceased, late of Mount Pleasant Township deeded to their brother George, also a son of the late John Andrew Weikert, the aforesaid tract of land, having received 400 pounds from George.

On January 10, 1792, John Adlesperger and his wife of York County deeded to Johannas Weikert of York County (who was a tanner by trade) two lots of land in the town of Petersburgh (now Littlestown) for 50 pounds.

On April 11, 1785, Ludwig Little and his wife Catherine of Germany Township deeded to George Weikert of Mount Pleasant Township and Germany Township, nineteen acres of land in Germany Township for 900 pounds.

On October 17, 1785, George Weikert of Germany Township and Margaret his wife, deeded the above tract of land to Johannas Weikert, tanner of Germany Township.

On October 15, 1798, Hugh McSherry deeded a tract of land in Mount Pleasant Township to George Weikert for 50 Shillings per Acre.

The Act of the Pennsylvania State Legislature, March 12, 1802 dealing with the purchase and improvement of the "Manor of the Maske" prior to 1741 provided that the original settlers, or his heirs, who were excluded perfecting titles to their lands, owing to the State and Manor boundry difficulties, be now enabled to acquire title by paying purchase money and interest thereon from 1765-1802 to the Receiver-General of the land Office. This Act applied to the settlers of Butler, Menellan, Liberty, Straban, Hamiltonban and Freedom Townships, as well as to the settlers on the East side of Marsh Creek. William Weikert was one of the original taxpayers of the township in 1799 and was assessed to the amount of $783.00.

Peter Weikert with James Gettys and David Moore was appointed as assessor to assess the Personal property of the single men in the six upper townships of Adams County in 1799, the assessments amounted to over $100,000. The rate being .36 on the $100.00.

In 1790 John Andrew Weikert was in the Tannery Business in Germany Township and an assessment which was made in 1799 gave his assessments at $1605.00.

In the Year 1864 Noah J. Weikert was councilman in Littlestown. It was the same year that Littlestown was incorporated as a Borough.

In the year 1865-1866 Samuel Weikert was councilman in the Borough of Littlestown, Pa.

St. Paul Evangelical Lutheran Congregation was organized in Littlestown, 1863-1866 and the work of the Church building was at once entered upon, in October 1867 it was completed and dedicated, the buildings and grounds cost about $16,000. The first officers of the Church included Samuel Weikert.

The National Guard, a company of forty-five men was organized at Hunterstown, February 12, 1859, with Dr. C. E. Goldsborough, Captain. One of the soldiers who answered the call from Straban Township in April 1861 was William F. Weikert. He was mustered in with Company E, Second Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry.

John Weikert was Postmaster at Greenmount in 1859.

The assessments for the year 1800, made in 1799 in Mount Pleasant Township, Adams County on which a tax of 22.8 cents per $100.00 was collected, George Weikert was assessed at $2800.00.

The fact that John Andrew Weikert and his son George saw service in the Revolutionary War, many of the ancestors were made eligible to the Sons and Daughters of the Revolution.

The decendants of John Andrew Weikert and his wife are 5420, while the decendants of George Weikert and his wife Anna Mariah Spitler number 4424 since the year 1781.

At the Court House at Philadelphia, Monday the 24th day of September 1753—Present Thomas Lawrence Esq.

The foreigners whose names are underwritten imported in the Ship Neptune, John Mason, Master, from Rotterdam and last from Cowes did this day take the usual qualifications.

George Andrew Weikert

These stones are located in St. John's Cemetery, near Littlestown, Pa.
They are of George Weikert and his two wives. This George Weikert is the Great-great-grandfather of the Author of this book, and is the son of John Andrew Weikert, the first Weikert that came to America. They were members of St. John's Church and their names appear many times on the early Church Records. George's first wife's stone is in German, and is very well preserved considering that it has stood for a period of 120 years.

STONE HOUSE ALONG THE GETTYSBURG-TAWNEYTOWN ROAD

This Stone House stands along the Gettysburg-Tawneytown Road, two miles South of Gettysburg. It was built about 1825 by Jacob Weikert who is the Great-Grandfather of the Author of this book. Jacob Weikert is the Grand Son of John Andrew Weikert the first Weikert to come to America. Jacob Weikert's thirteen children were born in this house.

FAMILY NUMBER EIGHT

Jacob Weikert the eighth child of George Weikert and Maria Spitler and a Grandson of John Andrew Weikert the first Weikert to come to America. Jacob Weikert is the Great Grandfather of the Author of this book. He was born March 21, 1797 and died from a stroke, while in an apple orchard, near the house, where he lived. He died August 12, 1878. He was a carpenter by trade and also a farmer. He owned the farm at the foot of Round Top, where during the three days, Battle of Gettysburg his house and barn was used as a Hospital. I wish to quote from the book entitled Blue and Gray, a history of the conflicts during the Battle of Gettysburg, (A Rhode Island Drummer Boy) "Kiss me before I die" said the little drummer boy to Mrs. Judge Fisher, of York, Pa., as he lay at the foot of Round Top, on Jacob Weikert's Farm, dying far away from home and his dear mother. She kissed his pale cheek, and tenderly held him in her arms, till his spirit had fled. His bereaved mother came several times in search of his body, but it could not be found until 1867, when it was sent to his home in Providence, R. I.

His broken drum was found near him, by farmer Jacob Weikert who turned it into a bee-hive, which for sixteen years was used in this strange and significant employment.

Jacob Weikert was married April 18, 1824 to Sarah Ikes who was born March 8, 1805 and died April 18, 1877. Thirteen children were born to this union, viz: Mary A., Isaaca., William H., Emanuel, Jacob R., Henretti, George F., Sarah L., Julia Ann, Levi, Rebecca, Amanda, and David M. L.

EMANUEL WEIKERT

Gettysburg, March 31.—Emanuel Weikert, scion of one of Adams County oldest families, is also one of its oldest residents. He is celebrating his 96th birthday anniversary today and felicitations are being received by scores from friends.

Weikert is the father of eleven children, six of them living. There are twenty-three grandchildren, seventeen great-grandchildren and five great-great-grandchildren, all living.

A farmer by profession, Weikert was born in Littleton, 1831, and moved to Gettysburg with his family when still a youth. Since then he has resided on the shell torn slopes of Little Round Top. He is the oldest Civil War veteran in the county, having enlisted in Harrisburg with Company G, 101st Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry. He campaigned with this organization until mustered out at New Bern, N. C., several months after the downfall of the Confederacy.

He is the great-grandson of John Andrew Weikert, who landed in America, September 24, 1753, disembarking at Philadelphia with a hundred or more fellow emigrants from the Rhineland in Germany. This was a fragment of the great migration to Pennsylvania. Thirty thousand came to this country before 1770, influenced greatly by the chaos and devastation wrought in the Rhine Valley during the Seven Years War in Central Europe.

Still hale and hearty and with an excellent memory, Weikert today related many stirring incidents of the Civil War to the friends who visited him to pay their respects.

FAMILY NUMBER THIRTEEN

(This Biographical Sketch of Samuel Weikert was taken from the History of Adams and Cumberland Counties Date of 1884.)

Samuel Weikert, Littlestown, Pa., was born in Mt. Pleasant Township Adams County, February 12, 1815. His father George Weikert was twice married; first to Miss Spitler who died, leaving ten children; John, Elizabeth, Catherine, Mary, George, Fannie, Peter, Jacob, Andrew, and Henry. He then married Mrs. Anna Mariah Colestock (Lightner), who bore him four children, viz: Margaret, Sarah, Samuel (Subject), and William.

Samuel Weikert at the age of sixteen years went to Coler's flour mill in York County, where he remained for six years, four years in learning the business and two years in conducting it. He then followed milling in Conowago Township, Adams County for seventeen years and at Berlin, York County five years. He came to Littlestown in 1860 and in company with John Duttera engaged in buying and shipping grain for several years. In 1842 Mr. Weikert married Lydia Showalter, who bore him four children: Mary J., who married Alonzo Sanders; Charles E., who married Mary Fink; Emma who married Luther Alleman, and William H., who died in infancy.

Mr. Weikert was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church and contributed liberally towards building the edifice; he also officiated as an elder in the church. He was a Republican politically and has served the borough in several local offices.

His grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Andrew Weikert formerly came from Germany, and first settled in Lancaster County, Pa., and many years ago settled in Mt. Pleasant Township, Adams County. They are both buried at St. John's Graveyard, Littlestown, Pa.
