(3) Daniel W. is always referred to as Sen^r. At the time of his death, his son and grandson, and brother John's son, making four of the same name, were living in Ipswich. In 1661, a way was allowed through his 6 acres by Saunders's Brook, and in 1665 a bridge by his house. Among several deeds on record, three may be noticed, viz.: 26 Sept., 1661, he sells for £74 10s. to Wallis, "all that my farm or parcel of land, both upland and meadow, in Ipswich, on South side the river, having said river towards the N. W., land of J. Belcher towards the N. E., highway towards S. E., and of land of Thomas Safford on S. W." 3 July, 1662, Daniel W., "husbandman," sold to Thomas Lovell, 16 acres of west meadows, part of which was his father's, and part was Thomas Wells, adjoining John Warner on the N. W., and on the common all the other sides. On 18 April, 1684, he records this, "my son Nathaniel W., being by God's providence upon a sick bed, and not knowing how the Lord may deal with him, and that there hath not been any settlement of any estate unto him, I have thought to do something for the comfort of his wife and child, &c.," and after making provision for them he adds, "and if the child not visible be a daughter, she shall have £40 paid to her at the age of 18 years." This was Hannah, who m. Ep. Fellows, and on 25 Feb., 1703, she acknowledged the receipt of £40 from her uncle John, Executor of her grandfather's estate.

In Faith Warner's Will, dated 25 June, 1669, she desires "my present husband Daniel W. to oversee its execution." The Inventory of her estate was taken 31 March, 1680. Her property went to her children by her first husband.

10 Nov., 1654, his aunt Sarah Stone, wife of Deacon Stone, of Watertown, made over to him "her house lot and housings, 2 acres, her 6 acre planting lot, and her Pine Swamp Farm, of 150 acres, to him and his heirs forever. In consideration he agrees forthwith to build a good and sufficient house upon the house lot, to pay her annuity of £4 in grain, and to her husband, if he survive her, £3, and that they shall dwell there at their pleasure, with a maid servant, &c." (Ipswich Record, Book 2, in Register Deeds Office, Salem.)

His Will, dated 7 Sept., 1688, gives to his sons Daniel and John each that part of his Pine Swamp Farm, of which they were already in possession, according to the division which they had made between them, Daniel to have in his part "the swamp we call Poplar Swamp." He gives to Daniel "the most part of that house lot which was formerly Robert Crand's, next to Edm. Bridges, bounded by Edm. Heard's land, on a straight line from a stump of a post within a pale fence at the street, to two posts that stand together in a corner next Mr. Norton's land, half of which I intended to have given John, but understand that Daniel hath paid him for it."

[This is the house lot which his son Daniel in his will gave, half to Phil^a. and half to John, his sons; Phil. sold his part to Jon. Prince in 1710, when he removed to Gloucester, and John was living on his part in 1717, as marked on a plan now on record at Salem. It is on Market street, in Ipswich, between the Railroad Depot and Peabody's brook; the premises are now, 1865, occupied by the houses of Mrs. N. Rogers Farley, Gardner, Robert Kimball, blacksmith's shop, and widow Jos. Chapman.]

He divides the marsh and Plum Island land between Daniel and John. Also provides for his wife Ellen, son William, daughters Elizabeth, Abigail, and Susannah, and grandchild Nathaniel, and his son William's son Daniel. His grandchild Nathaniel, to whom he had given a lot of 20 acres, with dwelling house, &c., bounded on the N. W. by the town common, W. and S. W. by J. Whipple, S. E. by the River, N. E. by widow Appleton, and N. by Maj. Dennison, is to pay his sister Hannah, and mother Hannah Batchelder, certain sums of money. On the death of Nath^l all the heirs of Daniel W. Sen. joined in conveying this property to Michael Farley, 28 Feb., 1698, viz.: John and William, his sons, John and Ab. Dane and Edm. and Elizabeth Heard, his daughters, and the children of his son Daniel, viz.: Daniel, Phil., Sarah, John and Mercy.

In the Inventory of his Estate, amounting to £707 1 9, his "house, barn, orchard, and land about it 21 acres, is set down at £160. The farm Daniel and John dwell upon, £200," &c.*

* Abigail,² dau. of William,¹ m. Thomas Wells, who came from Boston to Ipswich. They and her brothers Daniel and John are spoken of as "people of consideration among the first settlers." In 1638, the town granted to Thomas Wells a house lot, and about 1 1-2 acres on the river, and afterwards 10 acres of marsh land, in full satisfaction for his land taken for the highway by the bridge. His Will was probated 15 Nov., 1666. His son Nathaniel, Executor; his youngest son Thomas Wells, lived at Wells, York Co. (now Maine) in 1669. On the 24th of "the 9th mo. called Nov., 1644," Thomas Bishop sells to

The eldest son Daniel as administrator of his father's estate, which was Invt'd at £527 18, in settlement gave to Sarah £44 in money, to Phil^a half the house lot in Ipswich, and the shop adjoining, which his father built, to guardian of John half of the house and lot adjoining his uncle Heard, also marsh and wood land; and to guardian of Mercy, money, all in full satisfaction of their portion, and took their release; also agreed to support his mother Sarah. On 13 Feb., 1744, he sold it to Nathaniel Cross "for £960, old tenor," described as bounded by Nathaniel Warner, Day, Kimball and Woods. Several deeds by him are on record, from 1700 to 1712, of marsh and woodland. The old house at Pine Swamp is still standing (Nov., 1865). The initials "D. W." are cut on the chimney piece and elsewhere. We have an old account book in his writing extending from 1718 to 1754: it has several pages of genealogy of the posterity of Wm. Warner and John Dane. (Another similar book, of earlier dates, is missing, probably loaned to some one who, should he see this notice, is requested to return it to the compiler of these memoirs.)

I have often observed that when husband and wife live to the age of more than three score years, the wife is almost invariably the survivor. This observation is corroborated by the above record, in which, out of all the instances where the ages are certainly known, the wife survived the husband in every case but one, viz., Judge Holton, of Danvers, who survived his wife three years.
