

John Waldron of Dover,
New Hampshire

1879

JOHN WALDRON, OF DOVER, N. H., AND HIS DESCENDANTS.

in 1854

Twenty-five years ago, a great granddaughter of JOHN WALDRON told us that he was picked up in the streets of an English sea-port while a boy, in an "unfair manner," by one "Master Heard," hustled off to America, brought to Dover, and kept by said Heard as a chore-boy; that the boy was poorly clad and had a hard time of it, but excited the sympathies of one Mrs. Horne, past whose door he used to drive the cows, which Mrs. Horne did the forlorn boy many kindnesses, and becoming a widow married him. And further, that said Mrs. Horne lived on Horne's hill, where Stephen P. Palmer lately lived.

Examination of records convinced us that the traditions were correct. Master John Heard, of Dover, a ship-master, in his Will mentions "my prentice" John Waldron, and we have no doubt that he—mildly speaking—kidnapped the boy. Waldron did marry widow Horne. She was granddaughter of that same Master Heard, being Mary, daughter of John Ham by wife Mary daughter of Master Heard; she was born 2 Oct. 1668: married, 1st, 30 June 1686, John Horne, son of the original William Horne,—he being born 25 Oct. 1663, lived on Horne's hill, and died Mar. 1696-7, leaving divers children. Widow Mary married, 2d, 29 Aug. 1698, JOHN WALDRON.

Some of this family have claimed kinship with old Major Richard's family. But if there was any connection, it was on the other side of the ocean. Besides, the Major's name was WALDERNE, not Waldron, and WALDERNE was the name of his English ancestry. Their social position here was very different. Richard was speaker of the Massachusetts House, Major General, President of the Province of New Hampshire; John was Master Heard's chore-boy. Richard had great landed possessions; John began without a rod. But, in successive generations the great possessions of Richard dwindled to nothing, while John and John's heirs came to own thousands of acres. The descendants of Richard had little influence in Dover when John's grandson swept the town at every election. And, strangest of all, the Major's own son abandoned his hereditary surname, and adopted and gave to his descendants the patronymic of the kidnapped chore-boy. We are told that John¹ Waldron lived where the late Taylor Page lived. Of course the Horne property went mainly to the Horne heirs. The beautiful place of the late Taylor Page was on the road then a main road from Cocheco; there was no Brick street or Sixth street till many years afterwards. John acquired a handsome property. He died in 1740. By will dated 12 May 1740, proved 20 July following, he gave to wife Mary one half of homestead for life, the whole to go to son Richard after her decease,—this homestead being the Taylor Page place; to son John, besides the hundred acres “where he now lives” (the present Charles Ham farm), lands in Rochester “which I bought of the Twomblys,” and “all my wearing apparel;” to dau. Elizabeth, wife of Ezra Kimball, £ 30, and 30 acres of the land bought “of Reyner,” part of old Parson Reyner’s grant; to dau. Anne, wife of Timothy Roberts, 70 acres in Rochester, 40 of which joined land which Dea. Gershom Wentworth bought of Squire Atkinson; to dau. Mehitable, wife of James Chesley, £30, and 30 acres out of the Reyner tract; to dau. Sarah, wife of Isaac Libbey, the same as to Mehitable; to grandsons John Waldron, Richard Kimball, John Roberts, Ebenezer Chesley and Samuel Libbey, lands in Rochester; son Richard was executor and residuary legatee.

John¹ and Mary (Ham-Horne) Waldron had children, perhaps more and perhaps in different order. (Fam. 1):

1. John², b. about 1699, of whom see below.

2. Sarah².

3. Bridget². Our ancient informant told us that the Indians cut off the heads of Bridget and Sarah, aged about nine and seven, in presence of their mother. Savage ridiculed this, and Drake (in Register), pool-pooed; but Belknap is good authority, and he put it in July 1712. Indians are a nice race!

4. Richard², of whom see below.

5. Elizabeth², m. Ezra Kimball, one of the Kimball brothers (Ezra and Nehemiah) who came here from Massachusetts early in the last century, from whom all our Kimballs descend.

6. Anna², m. Timothy Roberts, of Rochester. We suppose he was bold Timothy whose family was the one settling in that wilderness. church record says: “December 1728. Timothy Roberts moved his family into Rochester, being the first family that settled in said Town.”

7. Mehitable², m. James Chesley, was born 18 May 1706, son of Ja and Tamsen (Wentworth) Chesley, whose ancestry see Wentworth Genealogy. She died 21 Aug. 1776, and he the exhilaration of seventy years of married, 4 April 1777, a damsel of twenty-two, viz., Lydia, dau. of Isaac Ho and he died 10 October following. Mehitable² had five children, only two of whom lived to maturity, viz.:

1. Tamsen³ Chesley, b. in 1728 1st, John Twombly; 2d, Col. Baker. By her first husband she had three children, including Tap Twombly who m. Joseph³ Waldron below; by her second, Tamsen³ seven children, and among her descendants are Hon. John V. Worth of Chicago, and Dr. James Wheeler of this city.

2. Hannah³ Chesley, the first of Rev. Avery Hall, of Rochester had two children.

8. Sarah², m. Isaac Libbey, and descendants even to this day in D

John², son of John¹, as in Fam. 1, born about 1699, was a perplexed man. There were too many Johns. But I think all is clear now. He had a farm where Charles Ham now lives, and that farm he conveyed for £8 to his son John³ 9 June 1778, deeded and acknowledged 11 June. But why did he make his mark? For £99, he conveyed to Richard Waldron, gentleman, and his brother Richard), 10

1771, 20 acres of the Reyner grant; John Waldron 3d, and Samuel Waldron witnesses; acknowledged 11 June 1778. He conveyed to "grandson William," for £500, 25 May 1772, 40 acres at the upper end of "my land."

"John Waldron, jun., and his son John" were baptized by parson Cushing 3 July 1726,—John² was "junior" then, but by death of his father in 1740, the junior dropped, and "Mary, wife of John Waldron, senior," was received to the church 1 Aug. 1742. John² died in Dover 4 July 1778, "aged 80", says a record. We don't know how many children he had. Certainly he had John³. We are tempted to add as his son, that Richard Kenney Waldron who was a Dover soldier at Louisburg in 1745, and whose dau. Abigail was baptised (in private) by parson Cushing 15 July 1746; and who was father of the famous Col. Isaac, of Barrington, and ancestor of the Barrington Waldrons,—but truth makes us say there is no evi ence, and we leave Richard Kenney Waldron out of the only place we can really find for him. But John² certainly had (Fam. 2):

1. John³, baptized 3 July 1726, of whom see below.

Richard², son of John¹, as in Fam. 1, had the homestead where Taylor Page lately lived, and a beautiful place it is. Richard's cellar was said to be under the present house a few years ago, and we presume that nobody has carried it away. Richard² married Hannah Smith, of Durham, b. 1 June 1716, dau. of Samuel and Hannah (Burnum) Smith. Her father, Samuel Smith, had the old Smith homestead, and was Town Clerk 1739—55, one of the Governor's Council once, and married Hannah Burnum 16 Feb. 1709—10. Samuel Smith was son of that Joseph Smith who was the first clerk of Dover Monthly (Friends) Meeting. Richard² must have married twice, as his Will, dated 26 Aug. 1771, proved 29 Jan. 1772, mentions wife Elizabeth. She survived him, and m., in Dover, 10 Dec. 1772, Joseph Atkinson, Esq., of Durham. Richard² by Will left his homestead to son John³ (Col. John of the Revolution); to sons Joseph, Richard, Samuel, and James, went some lands in Dover, some in Rochester, and all his lands in Somersworth. In his inventory were 1200 acres in Rochester, an eighth of a saw mill at Tole-End, an eighth of one at Norway Plain, and plenty more property.

The children of Richard² who survived him were, (Fam. 3):

1. John³ b. about 1740, of whom see below. 6, Feb. 8, 1745.

2. Hannah³ m., 26 Jan. 1764, Capt. John Hayes, who went to Lebanon, Me., and had eleven children.

3. Elizabeth³ m., 3 April 1770, Capt. Elisha Shapleigh, of Kittery, Me., and had ten children.

Hon. Daniel G². Rollins was her grandson.

4. Mary³ m. 23 Mar. 1778, Capt. Elijah Clements, of (now) Rollinsford. They lived near where Hon. William W. Rollins lives. Capt. Clements died in Frankfort, Me., 3 Aug. 1850, aged 90. Mary³ died early, having had but one child, viz. Betsey⁴ Clements, b. 22 June 1778, m., 7 Nov. 1800, in Somersworth, Joseph Thompson, of Berwick, Me., and, in Oct. 1801, moved to Frankfort, Me., where she died 4 May 1819, leaving seven children.

5. Joseph³, b. 16 May 1744, of whom see below.

6. Richard³, b. about 1749, of whom see below.

7. Samuel³, lived in Rochester; m.,

20 Feb. 1777, Hannah, dau. of Capt. John and Judith (Twombly) Gage, of Dover. He died childless in 1781, and his widow m. Daniel Rogers of Rochester, and d. 17 Mar. 1809. Samuel³ made Will 7 May 1781, proved 13 June following; he gave to his wife half his farm, and the use of the other half unless she married again, in which case that half went at once to his nephew Samuel⁴ Hayes, of Lebanon.

8. James³, of whom see below.

John³, son of John², as in Fam. 2, was baptized 3 July 1726, but may have been born a few years earlier. He had from his father, 9 June 1778, the farm where Charles Ham lives. This farm he conveyed to John Kimball (by exchange for the [now] James M. Hayes farm at Long Hill,) about 1800. Kimball's heirs, about 1820, conveyed it to the Dover Factory Co., who thought they wanted it for flowage, as a log dam, called the "Horne dam", then at the lower boundary of the farm made a reservoir,—a dam not far above Upper Factory dam, and now gone. In 1830, Ephraim Ham bought the farm from the Company, for his son Charles, who has lived on it ever since.

John³ m. Hannah—in Oct. 1745. His wife died 28 March 1813, but when people came to the funeral, he was so near his end that the service was postponed; he died on the 31st, at the house of his daughter Bolo, and the two were buried together. They had lived together in marriage 67 years and five months. The first five children mentioned below were baptized 30 May 1756. John³ had, (Fam. 4):

1. Bridget⁴, m. Peter Bolo, and lived on the Corson farm, at Blackwater. Of course, "Bolo" was corrupted from "Boleau."

2. William⁴, of whom see below.

3. John⁴, not remembered by ancient people.

4. Mary⁴, not remembered. (But there was a Mary of Dover m. 1 April 1777, Benjamin Ham, of Rochester.)

5. Ebenezer⁴, not remembered.

6. Thomas⁴, bapt. 20 Nov. 1757, not remembered.

7. Ephraim⁴, bapt. 31 Aug. 1760, of whom see below.

8. Sarah⁴, bapt. 24 Oct. 1762, not remembered.

John³, son of Richard², as in Fam. 3, "old Col. John", was born about 1740. He inherited the Taylor Page homestead, and lived there. There he camped the company which he led to Cambridge, and there parson Belknap preached to them before they marched. Capt. John was at Cambridge when the Connecticut troops, going home, left Washington to appeal to New Hampshire patriotism; and the Captain came home, raised seven hundred men in four days and went back a Colonel. The death of his wife and the absolute needs of his young children made him retire early from the service, but his patriotism was unbounded.

Probably Dover never had a more popular citizen. He was in the Provincial Legislature in 1774, and the Revolutionary Convention at Exeter in 1775; Representative in 1782, '3, '5, '6, and '8, 1797, '8, 1801, '2, '3, and '15. He was in the State Senate in 1788, 1790, '1, and '2, 1803, '04, '05, and '06. At a single election he was chosen moderator, lot layer, highway surveyor, overseer of the poor, Representative, and Senator. He was especially famous as moderator. His clear and powerful voice, his energy and decision, made him successful. The records show him to have been moderator of thirty-eight regular town meetings for elections, and of eight special meetings. His intense party feelings were not concealed. At one election in declaring the vote he added in a stentorian voice, stating the numbers, "so many for England, and so many for America!"

At one election there was no choice of Senator. Parties were very close in the Legislature, but Col. John was chosen, and a messenger sent, on horseback of course, to notify Col. John. The messenger at evening of the second day was slowly riding up Main street, when he hailed Amos White, and inquired where Col. John Waldron lived. He told Mr. White his errand. "What," said Mr. White, "is that Jacobin elected?" Finding a supposed sympathizer, the messenger told how he had been tutored by the Federalists to come slowly, as the election of State officers was to come off the next morning, and they did not want Col. John there. As soon as he was off, Mr. White saddled old Dick, galloped up the Upper Factory road to Horne's hill, then through bars, across the field, reached the Colonel's house before the messenger, and exposed the scheme. The Colonel received the Concord messenger courteously, but in a little time had dressed, was in the saddle, and as the sun rose next morning he was riding into Stickney's yard in Concord. His vote, it is said, elected various officers.

Col. John 3d, was baptized 15 Sept. 1765, and he and wife Joanna, were received as members of the First Church, 12 June 1768.

Col. John had not only the homestead, but much more. The land occupied by his grandson, the late Hon. Ezekiel Hurd was his; the Jacob Clark place, and the William Wendell farm.

He died 31 Aug. 1827, while on a visit to his son Dr. Timothy W. Waldron, in Bath, Me., and he was there buried. His body ought to have been brought and buried in the town of which he had been a useful and distinguished citizen.

He married four times; 1st, Joanna Shepherd, who d. 1 Sept. 1775; 2d, Polly Winn, of Woburn, Mass., who d. 19 July 1799, aged 56; 3d, Margaret (Frost), widow of Hon. John Wentworth, jun., of Dover, b. 3 Dec. 1747, d. 30 Sept. 1805; 4th, Pamelia, dau. of Rev. John Mellen, and widow of Rev. Caleb Prentiss, of South Reading, Mass., sister of Squire Henry Mellen, of Dover; she was b. 16 Sept. 1750, d. 3 Aug. 1823.
