FOREWORD

The first federal census of the United States was taken in 1790. Each tenth year since that time the procedure has been repeated. The records of these enumerations were sent to the nation's capitol for final tabulation and preservation. Unfortunately, however, in 1814 the Virginia lists for 1790, 1800, and 1810 were destroyed by fire.

Therefore the earliest federal census in existence for Russell County, Virginia, is that for the year 1820. In that enumeration only the names of the heads of families were recorded, accompanied by data on the number of members of the family between certain ages, both male and female, the number of foreigners not naturalized, and the number of persons engaged in agriculture, commerce and manufactures. It also showed the number of free whites, slaves and free colored persons.

For lack of space this list omits the complicated age groupings in the original schedules, but it is complete in other respects, and is arranged alphabetically in both surnames and Christian names.

The Russell County census for 1820 was made by Andrew Caldwell, assistant to the Marshal of the Western District of Virginia, and he subscribed the returns on December 4, 1820.
