PREFACE

THE Vermont Antiquarian Society has courteously permitted the publication of the interesting record kept by William G. Shaw of Burlington, Vt., during his activity as a pension agent, so far as the notes relate to soldiers in the War of 1812.

This record has particular value as it includes abstracts of the evidence presented by the claimant. There was no Vermont law requiring vital records to be kept by town clerks prior to 1840, hence attempts to learn the families of Vermont soldiers in either the Revolution or the War of 1812 frequently are futile. All who have had occasion to seek genealogical details in Vermont will realize the importance of this pension evidence.

The Volunteers whose names are printed are from the towns of Burlington, Colchester, Huntington, Milton, Underhill, Shelburne, Jericho, and Hinesburgh, and in all, number 189.

The contemporaneous accounts of the battle were copied from the newspaper files in the Fletcher Free Library at Burlington.

By the kindness of Mr. Henry L. Sheldon, we are enabled to add to the appendix, the payrolls of many companies from United States regiments, stationed at Burlington, Vt., during the War of 1812.

The acknowledgements of the editor are due to Messrs. Rodney and Augustus R. Macdonough for the reproduction of the picture of Commodore Macdonough. This is from the portrait painted by Gilbert Stuart, now in the Century Club, New York. The picture of the battle of Plattsburgh is from an old print and is used by permission of Col. C. S. Forbes.

Wells was put in charge of the rations of the company, issuing them to the soldiers. On the morning of September 11 they embarked from Burlington on a government sloop for Plattsburgh, but because of lack of wind they did not arrive on the New York shore until late in the afternoon. They camped that night where they landed, about five miles south of Plattsburgh, and the next morning marched to the town where they remained organized until the following Wednesday when, the British having retreated to Canada, they went to Burlington, returning the United States arms and being discharged September 15. Application made July 17, 1856; granted 160 acres of land. Witnesses, Henry Weed, Homer S. Chandler, and Justice William Weston.

AT BURLINGTON, VT.

ACCOUNTS OF THE BATTLE OF PLATTS- BURGH, SEPTEMBER 11, 1814

THE following account is taken from an "extra" of the "Northern Sentinel," published at Burlington, Vt., on Tuesday, September 13, 1814.

"GLORIOUS INTELLIGENCE."

"The anxiety of the public to learn the particulars of the late splendid victory over the British squadron on this Lake, has induced us to publish the following, which are all that have come to our knowledge.

"On Sunday, the ever memorable 11th of September, the enemy's squadron was discovered about eight o'clock, A. M., standing up the lake with a favorable breeze, under a press of sail. Every preparation was made by our gallant Commodore to give them a warm and cordial reception; with his squadron at anchor he awaited their approach. The enemy soon made their appearance off Cumberland Head and bore down for our squadron—the enemy's two largest vessels taking a position to attack the Saratoga, our flag ship. The first broadside from her killed the British Commodore (Downie) and her fire continued so spirited and well directed that the enemy's flag ship, the Confiance, soon after struck. At this time the whole broadside guns of the Saratoga next to the enemy were completely unmanageable. The enemy's brig continued her fire.

Our Commodore slipped his cable and wore round ; two broadsides compelled the brig to follow the example of the Confiance. In the meantime the Preble compelled one of the enemy's sloops to strike. The other grounded on Hospital Island just before the battle ended, and was taken possession of by some of our Gallies. The enemy's Gallies, except two which were sunk, with the assistance of their oars effected their escape. The slaughter on board the British fleet was immense. The Confiance alone had 110 killed and wounded. Our loss is severe—56 men killed and wounded on board the Saratoga—Commodore Macdonough himself was three different times knocked down by the splinters and falling spars and blocks, but has escaped with trifling injury. The loss on either side it is difficult and as yet impossible to ascertain.

“The comparative loss to the enemy with ours is stated at two to one.

“The British fleet consisted of fifteen vessels, viz.:—

The Confiance , mounting,	39 guns.
Linnet , mounting,	16 guns.
Chub , mounting,	11 guns.
Finch , mounting,	11 guns.
11 Gallies, mounting,	16 guns.
		93 guns.

“Our fleet of fourteen vessels, viz.:—

Saratoga ,	26
Eagle ,	20
Ticonderoga ,	17
Com. Preble ,	7
6 Gallies, 2 each,	12
4 Gallies, 1 each,	4

“On the result of this most glorious victory comment is unnecessary. The names of Macdonough and of his gallant officers, will be inserted among those of Decatur, Hull, Perry, Bainbridge, Porter, and Jones, and like them will be held in everlasting remembrance.

“The enemy under Sir George Prevost amounting to 14,000 regulars and embodied militia, in four brigades commanded by Major Generals De Rottenburgh, Powers, Brisbane, and Robinson, appeared before our works at Plattsburgh, and after bombarding, cannonading, and rocket-firing were obliged to retreat in the night of Sunday last, in great confusion, leaving a number of their tents, several pieces cannon, great quantities of ammunition, bombs, cannon balls, grape shot, fixed cartridges, shovels, spades, axes, pick axes, bread, flour, beef, etc., etc., in our possession, together with all their sick and wounded to our mercy. The gallantry of General Macomb, his subalterns and brave regulars (not exceeding 1,500), have never been exceeded. Not a pallid cheek was seen during the whole affair, notwithstanding the showers of shot, shells and rockets which were directed at our works. On silencing the enemy's battery the second time, Sir George made his escape with his life guard, while we were playing the tune of Yankee Doodle.

“The militia, thirty-two hundred, without distinction of party or age, in every instance have distinguished themselves. The Vermont volunteers have behaved with the coolness of regulars, and their conduct has fulfilled the expectations, which the promptness and spirit with which they turned out had raised.

“The enemy in their flight destroyed all the bridges and obstructed the road by trees, baggage, etc. They were however pursued as far as Chazy, but on account of the obstructions of the road and their precipient retreat, our heroes were not able to overtake them. The enemy have learnt a lesson long to be remembered, that the ‘soil of Freedom is sacred, that it must not, shall not, be polluted with impunity.' In this their expedition by land and water, we can account to Sir George for more than two thousand of his men killed and prisoners, and more than ninety pieces of cannon.

"To the interposition of heaven, be ascribed our glorious victory."

BRITISH ACCOUNT FROM THE MONTREAL "HERALD" OF SEPTEMBER 17, 1814

"PARTICULARS OF THE LATE DISASTROUS AFFAIR ON LAKE CHAMPLAIN

"The brave and lamented Captain Downie, in the Confiance, led our small flotilla in battle in a gallant style, and as far as talents, the valor of British tars, and enthusiastic devotion to their country, could command victory, the most successful event was reasonably expected. That noble officer fell in his country's cause, the second shot, but his place was ably filled by his Lieut. who continued the engagement with unabated vigor, and was in the act of laying alongside the largest ship of the enemy, when the rudder of the Confiance was unshipped by a shot from the enemy. The Linnet, a small brig, which with the Confiance, was the only vessel of any size in our flotilla, went ashore; in this state lying like a log on the water, the Confiance maintained the unequal contest with the whole flotilla of the enemy, in which were 4 vessels of large size. History produces nothing superior to the valor and gallantry of the officers and crew of the Confiance; suffice it to say that she was literally fought to the water's edge; and if accounts are true, there remained but thirty of her men unhurt at the end of 5 hours' fighting. Such men will bring down the Americans, as their fathers heretofore have done the Dutch, who without disparagement, were at one time better sailors than our unnatural foe. Would that a veil could be drawn over the scene on shore! but it must afford a sad tale in the page of British history! The scientific, brave Generals, Officers, and soldiers of the Duke of Wellington's army, and the others who have before fought in our cause in the Canadas, did everything which depended on them to support the noble efforts of their brothers on the water. That distinguished officer, General Robinson, who has been twice wounded this year on the other continent, with part of his brigade, had braved all danger in an assault. Some of the picquet Fort were heretofore away, and a few minutes more would have given up the fortifications, with an immense train of artillery into our hands, and every American must have fallen, or been made prisoners. It was thought necessary to check the ardor of the troops, and we must now instantly redouble our energies to obtain the command of the Lake, or with humility await our future destiny."

EXTRACTS FROM GENERAL ORDERS ISSUED BY GEN.
ALEX. MACOMB, AT PLATTSBURGH,
SEPTEMBER 14, 1814

“The Governor General of the Canadas and Commander in Chief of the British forces in North America, having invaded the Territories of the United States, with the avowed purpose of conquering the country as far as Crown Point and Ticonderoga, there to winter his forces with a view to further conquest, brought with him a powerful army and flotilla,—an army amounting to fourteen thousand men, completely equipped and accompanied by a numerous train of artillery and all the engines of war,—men who had conquered in France, Spain, Portugal, the Indies, and in various other parts of the Globe, and led by the most distinguished Generals of the British army. A flotilla also, superior to ours in vessels, men, and guns, had determined at once to crush us both by land and by water.

“The Governor General * * * appeared before the village of Plattsburgh, with his whole army, and on the eleventh, the day fixed for the general attack, the flotilla arrived.

“The enemy’s flotilla at 8 in the morning passed Cumberland Head, and at 9 engaged our flotilla at anchor in the bay off the town, fully confident of crushing in an instant the whole of our naval force; but our gallant Commodore Macdonough in the short space of two hours, obliged the large vessels to strike their colors, whilst the gallies saved themselves by flight. This glorious achievement was in full view of the several forts, and the American forces had the satisfaction of witnessing the Victory. The British army was also posted on the surrounding heights, that it could not but behold the interesting struggle for dominion on the Lake. At the same hour the fleets engaged, the enemy opened his batteries on our Forts, throwing hundreds of shells, balls and rockets and attempted at the same time to cross the Saranack at three different points to assault the works. At the upper ford he was met by the Militia and Volunteers, and after repeated attempts was driven back with considerable loss in killed, wounded and prisoners. At the Bridge near the Village he was repulsed by the pickets and brave riflemen under Captain Grovenor and Lts. Hamilton and Riley, and at the Bridge in the town, he was foiled by the guards, Block Houses, and the Artillery of the forts, served by Capt. Alexander Brooks, Capts. Richards and Smith, and Lieuts. Mountford, Smyth and Cromwell. The enemy's fire was returned with effect from our batteries and by sunset we had the satisfaction to silence seven batteries which he had erected, and to see his column retiring to their camps, beyond the reach of our guns.

“Thus beaten by land and by water, the Governor General withdrew his Artillery and raised the siege; at 9 at night sent off his heavy baggage and under cover of darkness, retreated with his whole army towards Canada, leaving his wounded on the field, and a vast quantity of bread, flour and beef which he had not time to destroy, besides a quantity of bombshells, shot, flints and ammunition of all kinds, which remain at the batteries and lie concealed in the ponds and rivers. As soon as his retreat was discovered the Light troops, Volunteers and Militia, were in pursuit, and followed as far as Chazy, capturing several dragoons and soldiers, besides covering the escape of hundreds of deserters, who continue still to be coming in. A violent storm and continual fall of rain prevented the brave Volunteers and Militia from further pursuit.

“Thus have the attempts of the invaders been frustrated by a regular force of only fifteen hundred men, a brave and active body of Militia of the State of New York, under Gen. Mooers, and Volunteers of the respectable and patriotic citizens of Vermont, led by Gen. Strong and other gentlemen of distinction, the whole not exceeding two thousand five hundred men.

“The British forces being now either expelled or captured, the services of the Volunteers and Militia may be dispensed with.

“General Macomb cannot however permit the Militia of New York and the Volunteers of Vermont, to depart without carrying with them the high sense he entertains for their merits. The zeal with which they came forward in defence of their Country, when the signal of danger was given by the General, reflects the highest lustre on their patriotism and spirit. * * *

“The General, in the name of the United States, thanks the Volunteers and the Militia for their distinguished services, and wishes them a happy return to their families and friends.”

COMMODORE MACDONOUGH'S OFFICIAL REPORTS

United States' ship Saratoga, off
Plattsburgh, Sept. 11, 1814.

Sir: The Almighty has been pleased to grant us a signal victory on Lake Champlain, in the capture of one frigate, one brig, and two sloops of war of the enemy.

I have the honor to be,

Very respectfully sir,

Your obedient servant,

T. MACDONOUGH, Com.

Hon. William Jones, secretary of the navy.

United States' ship Saratoga, at anchor off
Plattsburgh, Sept. 13, 1814.

Sir: By Lieut. Commandant Cassin I have the honor to convey to you the flags of his Britannic majesty's late squadron, captured on the 11th inst. by the United States' squadron, under my command. Also, my despatches relating to that occurrence, which should have been in your possession at an earlier period, but for the difficulty in arranging the different statements.

The squadron under my command now lies at Plattsburgh,—it will bear of considerable diminution, and leave a force sufficient to repel any attempt of the enemy in this quarter. I shall wait your order what to do with the whole or any part thereof, and should it be consistent, I beg you will favor me with permission to leave the lake and place me under command of Commodore Decatur, at New York. My health (being some time on the lake), together with the almost certain inactivity of future naval operations here, are among the causes for this request of my removal.

I have the honor to be,

Sir, with much respect,

Your most obedient servant,

T. MACDONOUGH.

Hon. William Jones, secretary of the navy, Washington.

United States' ship Saratoga,

Plattsburgh Bay, Sept. 11, 1814.

Sir: I have the honor to give you the particulars of the action which took place on the 11th inst. on this lake.

For several days the enemy were on their way to Plattsburgh, by land and water; and it being understood that an attack would be made at the same time by their land and naval forces, I determined to await at anchor the approach of the latter.

At 8 A. M. the lookout boat announced the approach of the enemy. At 9 he anchored in a line ahead, at about 300 yards distance from my line; his ship opposed to the Saratoga, his brig to the Eagle, Captain Robert Henley, his galleys, thirteen in number, to the schooner, sloop, and a division of our galleys: one of his sloops assisting their ship and brig, the other assisting their galleys. Our remaining galleys with the Saratoga and Eagle. In this situation, the whole force, on both sides, became engaged: the Saratoga suffering much from the heavy fire of the Confiance. I could perceive at the same time, however, that our fire was very destructive to her. The Ticonderoga, Lieut. Commandant Cassin, gallantly sustained her full share of the action. At half past 10 o'clock, the Eagle, not being able to bring her guns to bear, cut her cable, and anchored in a more eligible position, between my ship and the Ticonderoga, where she very much annoyed the enemy, but unfortunately leaving me exposed to a galling fire from the enemy's brig. Our guns on the starboard side being nearly all dismounted, or not manageable, a stern anchor was let go, the bower cable cut, and the ship winded with a fresh broadside on the enemy's ship, which soon after surrendered. Our broadside was then sprung to bear on the brig, which surrendered in about 15 minutes after.

The sloop that was opposed to the Eagle had struck some time before, and drifted down the line; the sloop which was with their galleys having struck also; three of their galleys are said to be sunk, the others pulled off. Our galleys were about obeying, with alacrity, the signal to follow them, when all the vessels were reported to me to be in a sinking state; it then became necessary to annul the signal to the galleys, and order their men to the pumps.

I could only look at the enemy's galleys going off in a shattered condition, for there was not a mast in either squadron that could stand to make sail on; the lower rigging, being nearly all shot away, hung down as though it had been just placed over the mast heads.

The Saratoga had fifty-five rounds shot in her hull; the Confiance one hundred and five. The enemy's shot passed principally just over our heads, as there were not twenty whole hammocks in the nettings at the close of the action, which lasted, without intermission, two hours and twenty minutes.

The absence and sickness of Lieut. Raymond Perry, left me without the services of that excellent officer; much ought fairly to be attributed to him for his great care and attention in disciplining the ship's crew, as her first lieutenant. His place was filled by a gallant young officer, Lieut. Peter Gamble, who I regret to inform you, was killed early in the action. Acting Lieut. Vallette worked the 1st and 2d divisions of guns with able effect. Sailing Master Brum's attention to the springs, and in the execution of the order to wind the ship, and occasionally at the guns, meets with my entire approbation; also Captain Young's commanding the acting marines, who took his men to the guns. Mr. Beale, purser, was of great service at the guns and in carrying my orders throughout the ship, with Midshipman Montgomery. Master's Mate, Joshua Justin, had the command of the third division: his conduct during the action was that of a brave and correct officer. Midshipmen Monteath, Graham, Williamson, Platt, Thwing, and Acting Midshipman Baldwin, all behaved well, and gave evidence of their making valuable officers.

The Saratoga was twice set on fire by hot shot from the enemy's ship.

I close, sir, this communication with feelings of gratitude for the able support I received from every officer and man attached to the squadron which I have the honor to command.

I have the honor to be,

With great respect, sir,

Your most obedient servant,

T. MACDONOUGH.

Hon. William Jones, secretary of the navy.

P. S. Accompanying this is a list of killed and wounded, a list of the prisoners, and a precise statement of both forces engaged. Also letters from Captain Henley and Lieutenant Commandant Cassin.

T. MACDONOUGH.

United States' brig Eagle,
Plattsburgh, Sept. 12, 1814.

Sir: I am happy to inform you that all my officers and men acted bravely, and did their duty in the battle yesterday, with the enemy.

I shall have the pleasure of making a more particular representation of the respective merits of my gallant officers, to the honorable the secretary of the navy.

*These sloops were formerly the United States' Growler and Eagle.

I have the honor to be,

Respectfully sir,

Your most obedient servant,

ROBERT HENLEY.

P. S. We had 31 round shot in our hull (mostly 24-pounders), four in our lower masts, and we were well peppered with grape. I enclose my boatswain's report.

R. H.

United States' Schooner Ticonderoga,

Plattsburgh Bay, Sept. 12, 1814.

Sir :

It is with pleasure I state, that every officer and man under my command, did their duty yesterday.

Yours respectfully,

STEPHEN CASSIN,

Lieutenant Commandant.

Commodore Thomas Macdonough.

United States' ship Saratoga,

Sept. 15, 1814, off Plattsburgh.

Sir :

As Providence has given into my command the squadron on Lake Champlain, of which you were (after the fall of Captain Downie) the commanding officer, I beg you will, after the able conflict you sustained, and evidence of determined valor you evinced on board his Britannic majesty's brig Linnet, until the necessity of her surrender, accept of your enclosed parole, not to serve against the United States, or their dependencies, until regularly exchanged.

I am, &c. &c.

T. MACDONOUGH.

To Captain Pring, royal navy.

MACDONOUGH'S OFFICIAL REPORT OF THE AMERICAN LOSSES AND BRITISH PRISONERS.

United States' ship Saratoga,
September 13, 1814.

Sir: I have the honor to enclose you a list of the killed and wounded on board the different vessels of the squadron under your command in the action of the 11th inst.

It is impossible to ascertain correctly the loss of the enemy. From the best information received from the British officers, from my own observations, and from various lists found on board the Confiance, I calculate the number of men on board of that ship at the commencement of the action, at 270, of whom 180, at least were killed and wounded; and on board the other captured vessels at least, 80 more, making in the whole, killed or wounded, 260. This is doubtless short of the real number, as many were thrown overboard from the Confiance during the engagement.

The muster books must have been thrown overboard, or otherwise disposed of, as they are not to be found.

I am, sir, respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

GEORGE BEALE, JR., Purser.

Thomas Macdonough, esq., commanding United States' squadron on Lake Champlain.
